In The News:

Standard & Poor's (S&P) changed its ratings on GF1 to a 'AAAF' fund credit quality rating and a 'S1+' fund volatility rating from a 'AAAm' principal stability rating on December 18th. The change was made at OST's request to allow more flexibility to manage GF1 to less restrictive criteria given the sustained period of extremely low interest rates. Preservation of principal remains our primary investment objective and OST will continue to manage GF1 assets in a manner intended to preserve principal, provide liquidity and generate interest income which meets or exceeds the monthly net yield of the S&P Government Investment Pool Index.

Portfolio Strategy:

GF1 is designed to maximize current income while preserving principal and providing daily liquidity. GF1 is managed to maintain a $1.00 value and a weighted average maturity of 60 days or less, with the maximum maturity of any investment limited to 397 days. The GF1 weighted average maturity (WAM) was 43 days as of June 30, 2013. Repo rates averaged 6.6 basis points for the month of June, down 1 basis point from the month of May. The target range for the federal funds rate remains at zero to ¼ percent and the market's perception based on fed funds futures is the Fed is on hold through mid 2014. We continued to implement a barbell strategy by combining overnight repo positions with 3-month term repo at a yield of 30 basis points.
