-Portfolio Strategy:

For the month of June short term interest rates hovered in the single digit range, supported by Fed involvement. The Federal Reserve announced that it will continue to support financial markets, through monetary policy, for as long as necessary. This should ensure continued low but stable rates.

GF1 yields will continue to drop in the very near term. Three-month Treasury Bills yield .11% and we expect that GF1 will see yields similar to that, as securities bought earlier in the year mature and are reinvested at these lower yields. The good news is we expect yields are at or near their lows. The bad news is they are likely to stay here for the rest of 2020.
